2:00pm - 3:30pm ET

PLEASE ADJUST TIMES FOR YOUR TIMEZONE

Inspirational keynote address given by Emily Friedman on June 4th at Partners in Action: Strategies for Improving Community Health. The speech focuses on the critical importance of engaging a broad range of community partners in health improvement, if we are to address not only health, but underlying social concerns with epidemic-level health consequences, such as violence and poverty. The speech also addresses persistent issues related to health disparities in America. The conference was sponsored by Public Health Futures Illinois, and funded in part under the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation initiative, Turning Point: Collaborating for a New Century in Public Health.

- Objectives: At the end of this presentation participants should be able to:
- Educate public health, human service staff, and community partner leadership on issues related to health improvement partnerships.
  - Aid health departments and human service agencies in engaging partners in community improvement activities.
  - Inspire staff and community leaders to build strong partnerships to improve the health of our most vulnerable community members.

Target Audience: Local health department and human service agency staff; community partners including: social service, hospitals staff, employers/business groups. Labor, education groups, advocacy groups, and United Ways/Community Foundations.

Presenters: John Lumpkin, M.D., M.P.H., Director, Illinois Department of Public Health
Emily Freidman, Commentator, Writer, Health Ethicist

Sponsors: Public Health Futures Illinois and the Illinois Department of Public Health

CEU's: None

1. Locate a satellite downlink site in your community, with a steerable dish, that can receive either C or KU-bands. Most hospitals, community colleges, some local health departments, and high schools have steerable dishes. (If you need help identifying a site, please call Vicky Ritz at 217/785-4475).
2. After identifying a site, make sure that they can accommodate you for this particular date/time. You will need to arrive approximately 30 minutes before air time to set the room up, i.e., make sure program is tuned-in, set out sign-in sheet, handouts, etc.
3. Fill out the attached form and fax it to Vicky Ritz at 217/557-7843.
4. Specific coordinates and materials (if applicable) will be mailed to you approximately 10 days prior to the program. At that time you need to forward the coordinates to the technical person at your site.

How To Register: To register your site and receive materials, please fax the form below to:
217/557-7843 (If you have any questions, call Vicky Ritz at 217/785-4475.)
